

VISION & GOALS

A challenge to keep you on track in your life and business.

Glampreneur

YOU HAVE
EVERYTHING YOU
NEED TO BE SUCCESSFUL

The Challenge

As a Glampreneurs you get a lot of ideas for your business and your life. So many ideas flow from you that it's easy to get lost and never pursue one thing.

This challenge was created to get you focused on the things you want out of your life. You will be able to see all your ideas in one place and arrange how you want them to happen.

Supplies

You will need:

- 3 poster boards to hang on a wall or prop up where you can see it.
 - I like to use the Post-it Sticky Easel Pad but any large paper will do
- Markers in various colors
- Regular sized Post-its (the small ones)

Step 1

Clear your calendar for at least 2 days. If you don't have 2 days give yourself a full day. Get away from all distractions, family, friends, social media, phones, TV. Whatever takes your focus away.

You can include a business partner or friend in this vision planning, but be sure they are focused and ready to fully participate in this activity.

Step 2

Post the 3 poster boards on the wall and label them: Brain dump, Timeline, Ideas.

Then on your small Post-its write all the ideas you have. The ideas can be for your business, your personal life, your family. They can also be things you want to learn, projects you want to do, people you want to connect with. It doesn't matter, whatever pops into your head write it on its own Post-it and place it on the brain dump poster board.

Note: The purpose is to let all your ideas out! Don't think can you do it or how you will do it. Just write it down!

Lastly, the reason you don't separate business from personal is your one person. You will be creating the vision for your entire life, not just your business. So think of it as a whole.

Step 3

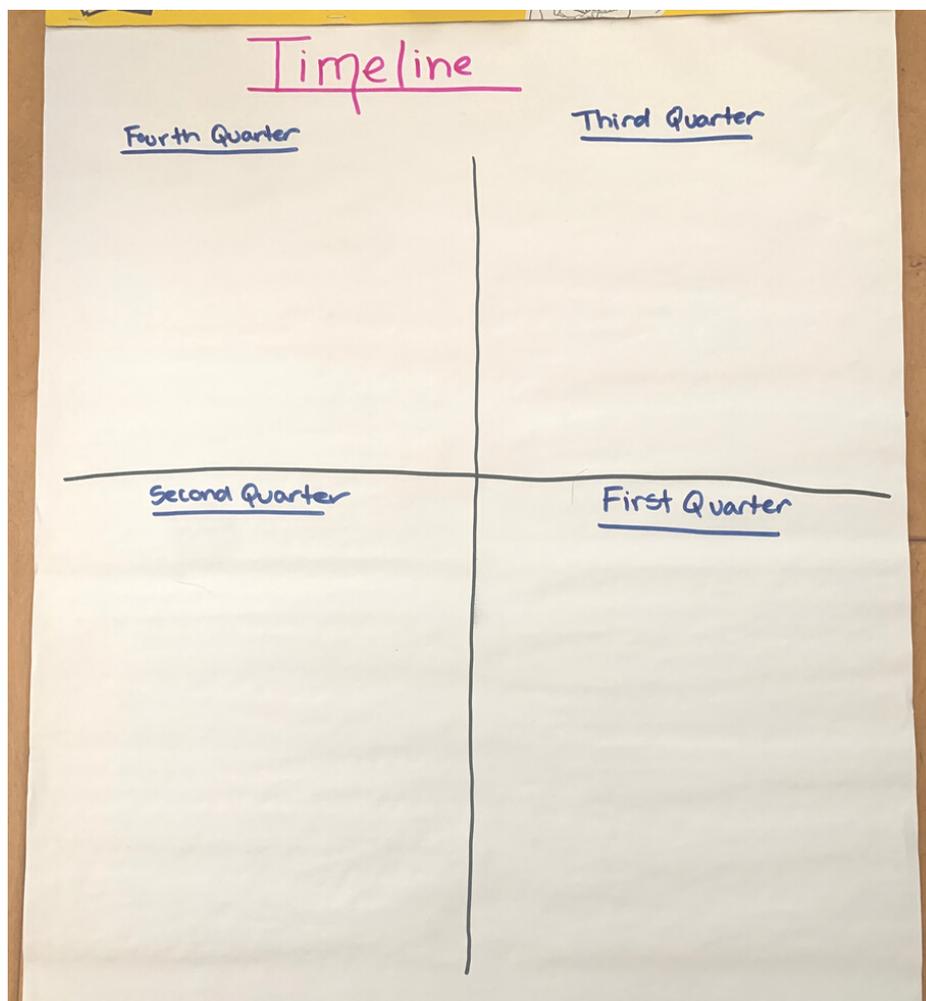

Once you're done with brain dumping. You have all your thoughts on the brain dump poster. Take a step back and look at everything.

Don't get overwhelmed yet! You are going to start organizing on your timeline what you will pursue first.

Timeline:

Break your timeline poster into 4 quarters.

- First quarter- January, February, March
- Second quarter- April, May, June
- Third quarter- July, August, September
- Fourth quarter- October, November, December

Now place your idea post-its in the quarters you want to work on them.

For example: Maybe one idea is to learn how to create a website. Place it in the quarter you want to work on it.

Continue doing this until all post-it ideas have their place. You should be realistic about how you can accomplish these things. Give yourself time and a little leeway in case life happens.

Step 3

The last poster board is for everything you can't finish in a year. Don't feel disappointed there will be time to tackle it later, but right now you are getting laser focused on what needs to happen to first.

Step 4

The last step is to take a picture of everything you created. Keep it somewhere you can refer back to it. Print it out and post it somewhere. You can even leave those poster boards up if you want. Whatever you choose to do, make sure you can easily access it.

Congratulations!

You have just created a realistic picture of what you can accomplish in a year to get closer to your vision. Consider this your personal roadmap.

This is going to stop you from feeling overwhelmed, frustrated, and lost. When you don't know your direction, look back on this challenge to get you back on track.

After getting a clear picture of what it takes to get to your vision. You can now see yourself where you want to be. I would consider writing in a planner where you see yourself in the next 2 years as a bonus to this exercise. Have a plan, make it plan, write it down.

Lastly, celebrate yourself! You're making progress to the life you want for yourself.
